

OPERATIONAL REPORT: CHINESE SUBMARINE ACTIVITY ANALYSIS (12 JUN 2025)

TO: Naval Command

TIME AND DATE OF GENERATION OF REPORT: 12th June 2025 18:56:11

SUBJECT: Assessment of Chinese Submarine Activity (ID 2002) - Silent Running and Depth Excursion

SUMMARY:

Reports by Arnab (ID 2002) indicate that Chinese submarines are conducting Silent Running and Depth Excursion maneuvers, indicative of advanced underwater warfare training or strategic reconnaissance. All reported positions are well within Chinese territorial waters, indicating continued operational focus in these areas.

OBSERVATIONS & ANALYSIS:

- Identity & Status:* Target ID 2002, identified as Chinese submarines. Categorized as Unknown. This suggests an unknown asset operating in our Area of Responsibility (AOR), requiring careful observation and analysis.
- Geographic & Temporal Span:* Data points range from 12:03:47 to 12:06:47 IST, all within Chinese Waters. This signifies continued presence in critical coastal regions, suggesting ongoing operational activities.
- Movement Patterns:*
 - Silent Running:* The submarines are conducting Silent Running maneuvers, characterized by no active sonar, minimal noise, and passive listening only. This suggests advanced underwater warfare training or strategic reconnaissance, intended to remain undetected.
 - Depth Excursion:* The submarines are also conducting Depth Excursion maneuvers, characterized by sudden changes in depth to avoid detection or torpedoes. This suggests a tactical repositioning or evasion pattern, intended to break sonar locks or evade detection.
- Points of Interest:* The closest point of military interest remains consistently within Chinese territorial waters, reinforcing its operational focus in these areas.
- Hostility Assessment:* The unknown nature of the submarines (Unknown category) and the lack of hostile intent (Friendly status) throughout all reports mitigate immediate threat assessment.

CONCLUSION:

The Chinese submarines (ID 2002) are engaging in what appears to be advanced underwater warfare training or strategic reconnaissance, within authorized Chinese territorial waters. The Silent Running and Depth Excursion maneuvers are characteristic of complex underwater warfare training or strategic reconnaissance. Continued monitoring is advised to confirm operational intent and detect any deviation from expected unknown patterns.
